PARTNERSHIP

Apprenticeship Levy

The Apprenticeship Levy is a levy on UK employers to fund new apprenticeships.

If you have a UK wage bill of over £3m, you will be required to pay 0.5% of that into a levy. In England, control of apprenticeship funding will be put in the hands of employers through the Digital Apprenticeship Service.

The government is committed to boosting productivity by investing in human capital. As part of this, the government is committed to developing vocational skills, and to increasing the quantity and quality of apprenticeships. It has committed to an additional 3 million apprenticeship starts in England by 2020. The levy will help to deliver new apprenticeships and it will support quality training by putting employers at the centre of the system.

The levy is the government's solution to funding the increase in numbers and putting control of the funding in the hands of employers.

Apprenticeship Standards: overview

Apprenticeships are changing. From 2017 the government will replace existing Apprenticeship frameworks with employer-designed Trailblazer 'standards', based around specific job roles which detail the Knowledge, Skills and Behaviours an Apprentice would have to demonstrate to prove competence in that role.

Apprenticeship Standards: the components

Each standard will contain the following key elements:

On-programme training and learning

On-the-job and off-the-job training and learning need to develop the apprentice's knowledge, skills and behaviours.

Gateway to end-point assessment

Towards the end of the apprenticeship, employers and providers will 'sign-off' the apprentice as being ready for end-point assessment.

Professional Accountant Apprenticeship Standard (Level 7)

Overview of standard

Occupation: Professional Accountant

Duration: Typically 18 to 36 months

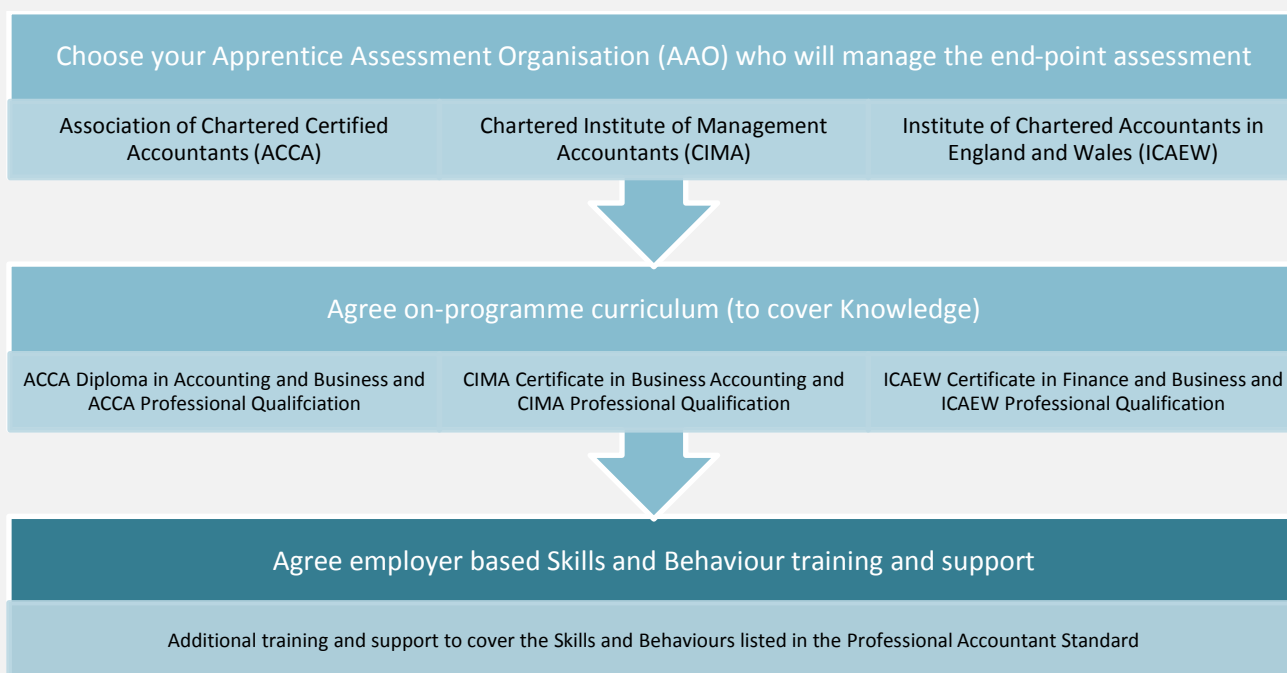

Level: 7

Funding band: £21,000

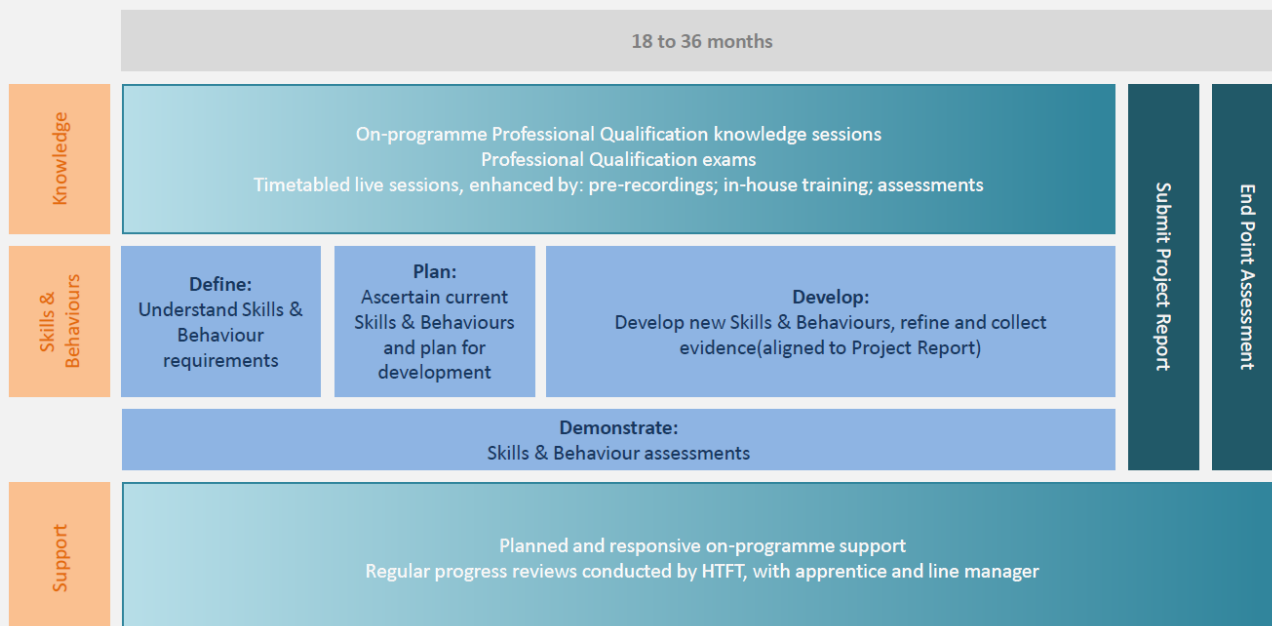

Role profile: Professional Accountants are recognised around the world as respected leaders in accountancy, finance and business. From providing strategic business advice to audited financial statements or driving mergers and acquisitions, a career as a Professional Accountant can be diverse and challenging; it's not just about putting numbers into a spreadsheet. Professional Accountants use technical knowledge, skills and experience to lead organisations and people to make responsible and sustainable financial decisions. Professional Accountants are required to act in the public interest and must therefore maintain the highest standards of professional conduct and competency; upholding ethical behaviour and integrity at all times.

Planning your Apprenticeship programme

In addition to the planning required to identify where apprentices fit into workforce planning; gain wider support, advertise for and recruit apprentices, there are some fundamental activities that we will support you through to ensure your Apprenticeship programme works for you.
